* The DVD player is omitted when you book the additional option “+Notebook”.

The packages include extension cables for connecting the equipment. The power supply to the stand system is adequate for the operation of an Image & Sound package. To use additional electrical equipment at the stand an extra power supply may have to be ordered from the respective service provider, depending on the power output of the additional items. Audio cables available free of charge if needed.

Excerpt from the General Terms & Conditions for Additional Services (Part III of the Terms & Conditions):

Conditions of insurance
The exhibitor is liable for the rented equipment from the moment of handover through to the return of the items. It is the exhibitor’s responsibility to insure the items of equipment. Alternatively, each contract may include insurance cover for theft or damage, concluded with the service providers AVMS GmbH and System Rent A. Kreitz KG, and with a deductible self-contribution of 300 euros per item. Notebooks and iPads are excluded from this arrangement. It is still strongly recommended that the exhibitor engages a security guard to protect the equipment outside the fair opening hours.

Handover of rented equipment
The handover and initial operation will take place during the final construction day before the official opening of the Book Fair, according to the agreed appointment as requested by the exhibitor in the order form. The rented equipment will be handed over to the exhibitor by the service providers AVMS GmbH and System Rent A. Kreitz KG, on behalf of the Frankfurt Book Fair. The exhibitor confirms receipt of the items with his or her signature on the delivery note. Any damage or other observations must be listed on this delivery note and communicated to Ausstellungs- und Messe GmbH (Frankfurt Book Fair) without delay. If the service provider cannot find any staff at the stand, with the placement of the equipment at the stand the service is considered fulfilled. Equipment will be returned on the final day of the Fair, following the official close of the event. On this day, the exhibitor will remain responsible for the safety of the equipment until the arrival of the service providers. The return of the equipment must be confirmed on the delivery note by both the service provider as well as the exhibitor. If, however, there is no staff at the stand area, the service provider may remove the equipment from the stand without a confirmation of its return.

Order deadlines
The time limit for ordering Image & Sound packages is six weeks prior to the start of the fair. Orders after 2 September 2015 are possible in consultation with the organisers. However, the success of the order can only be confirmed once the availability of equipment has been assessed.

Conditions of cancellation
Cancellation of ordered equipment is possible with a cancellation fee of 65 euros, before 16 September 2015. Cancellations made less than four weeks before the fair starts will incur a charge of 100 per cent of the total price of the ordered equipment.

Internet connections
The exhibitor must order Internet connections directly from the official service provider for the fair. It is recommended that a cable connection is used for the best guarantee of undisrupted access to the Internet. Internet cables should be ordered from the service provider in such a way that they emerge from the floor, close to the displays and workspaces.
